

The day of “Military patriotism” was held at the Institute

According to the provisional order of the governor on December 4, 2018, it was assigned that morning military exercises were scheduled to perform every Friday on a day of “military patriotism” in higher educational institutions.

In this regard, on December 14, 2018 being lined up event was held in an open area in the main building of Andijan Machine Building Institute by several students who served in the army before and studying at the institute today.

The main aim of the event was to show that young people were responsible for the peace and tranquility of this country, and to emphasize the importance of young people in the development and prosperity of the country.

Otabek Odilov

Press officer of the Andijan Machine Building Institute